

Presentación

Su elaboración en formato electrónico, iniciada en julio de 2002, ha supuesto importantes ventajas de cara a ampliar y agilizar su difusión entre los profesionales del sector, permitiendo asimismo la localización de documentación relevante por parte de cualquier ciudadano interesado en el campo de las drogodependencias.

Como en los números anteriores, en el boletín de septiembre se recogen las principales novedades bibliográficas que, sobre los distintos aspectos relacionados con las adicciones, han tenido entrada en el Centro de Documentación e Información de la Delegación del Gobierno para el Plan Nacional sobre Drogas (Ministerio de Sanidad y Consumo) en los tres últimos meses. El contenido del Boletín está estructurado en tres grandes epígrafes: Novedades Bibliográficas (clasificadas por su temática), Legislación y Sumarios de Revistas.

Otros contenidos de interés como Reuniones, Seminarios y Congresos, y Noticias de prensa sobre drogodependencias no forman parte de este Boletín al tener un punto de acceso permanente dentro de nuestra página web: <http://www.msc.es/pnd/index.htm>.

Esperamos que el Boletín, cuya difusión se realiza a través de listas de distribución de correo electrónico y de su presencia permanente en la página web de la Delegación del Gobierno para el Plan Nacional sobre Drogas, sea de interés y quedamos a la espera de cualquier sugerencia y/o consulta que sobre el mismo queráis formular.

CONTEMPORARY DRUG PROBLEMS

DRINKING AND PUBLIC PLACE

1 Notes on Contributors

3 Editor's Introduction: Drinking and Public Place

An introduction to four papers and two commentaries on drinking places and their worlds, from early modern times to the late 20th century.

PETER CLARK

9 Drinking and Public Space in Early Modern German Lands

After a sketch of the main occasions for alcohol consumption in Bavaria and Bern in the 1500s to 1700s, the paper explores the dynamic relationship between public and private space in drinking establishments, concluding that taverns at the same time both challenged and stabilized the social order.

BEAT KÜMIN

29 Taverns in the Public Sphere in 18th-Century Paris

Three types of drinking places in Paris under the old regime attracted distinct clienteles. The artisanal taverns that served the bulk of the Parisian population evolved as a public sphere, developing from a space monopolized by royal control to one in which the populace behaved increasingly autonomously, with latent political implications.

THOMAS BRENNAN

45 Public Drinking Then and Now

A commentary on the papers of Kümin and Brennan.

KATHRYN GRAHAM

57 Drinking and Public Space in Leningrad/St. Petersburg and Helsinki in the Interwar Period

As the Soviet Union and Finland both retreated from prohibition, authorities in both Leningrad and Helsinki emphasized strong control of public drinking places, pushing traditional male drinking toward more private space.

JUSSI WACKLIN

93 Moral Regulation of Public Space and Drinking in the Media and Legislation in Finland

The ban on public drinking was lifted in Finland in 1995. Intended as a civilizing measure, the result was more obtrusive public intoxication. The paper examines themes of moral regulation in the ensuing media and legislative debate.

JUKKA TORRONEN AND THOMAS KARLSSON

127 Societal Response and the Moral Regulation of Public-Space Drinking

A commentary on the papers of Wacklin and Törrönen & Karlsson.

DAVID R. RUDY

ISSUE EDITOR: PETER CLARK

131 A Typology of Toronto Nightclubs at the Turn of the Millennium

Drawing on 1,056 nights of observation in 75 high-capacity nightclubs in Toronto, the paper delineates 10 types of clubs on the basis of the music genre featured. Particular subcultures tend to be associated with the different types.

AN INTERDISCIPLINARY QUARTERLY

169 Notes on Contributors

171 Patterns of Alcohol Consumption Among Older Persons in Botswana

A national sample of Botswanans (n=372) ages 60 and over was interviewed in 1998. Over half of males and three-quarters of females currently abstain, while 17% of males and 8% of females are hazardous drinkers (AUDIT score 8+). Hazardous drinkers were more likely to drink Western-style beverages and less likely to have high socioeconomic status and to be religious.

THOMAS CLAUSEN, TOR INGE ROMØREN,
INGEBORG ROSSOW, BENEDICTE INGSTAD, ROBERT M. MOLEBATSI
AND GERD HOLMBOE-OTTESEN

195 Toward a Comparative Analysis of State Alcohol-Control Systems: The Triadic Model

Drawing on various national histories of alcohol control, the paper constructs and explicates a triadic model of the interplay of three interests: public health and social order; government revenue; and private profit. It is argued that the model provides a means for judging the potential from implementing new policies.

M. LAWRENCE SCHRAD

225 The OxyContin Epidemic and Crime Panic in Rural Kentucky

Oxycodone, a synthetic opioid medication, first came onto the U.S. market in 1996. Nonmedical use rose quickly over the next five years. By 2000, a panic was under way in the Kentucky media, linking Oxycontin to a "crime wave." But, as the paper shows, the crime rate did not in fact rise.

KENNETH D. TUNNELE

259 The Australian National Council on Drugs (ANCD) and Governance in the Australian Drug Policy Arena

In the context where Australian states were supporting initiatives such as heroin prescription trials, the new and conservative federal government set up the ANCD in 1997 to allow more direct federal control of drug policy. Resistance to this, in the context of a complex federal system, has resulted in strain and stalemate.

"It Might Be a Scummy-Arsed Drug but It's a Sick Buzz": Chroming and Pleasure

In-depth interviews with 26 Melbourne youths explore the meanings for them of chroming, the Australian term for inhaling fumes from spray paint. Themes included bodily experiences (the "rush"), escaping from reality, imagining, risky action, socializing, communicating, and consuming. Using often gives a sense of personal power and autonomy.

SARAHMACLEAN

Syringe Acquisition, Peer Exchange and HIV Risk

Patterns by which Toronto injection drug users acquire syringes are studied in qualitative interviews with 120 users and with staff of a syringe-exchange program. The most problematic pattern for HIV infection, obtaining a syringe at the time of drug injection, is associated with being homeless and staying in shelters or with relatives or friends.
